Independent Auditors' Report

Board of Trustees
The Frick Collection

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of The Frick Collection (the "Collection") as of June 30, 2010, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Collection's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the Collection's 2009 financial statements and, in our report dated November 17, 2009, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Collection's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Frick Collection as of June 30, 2010, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. The Collection

The Frick Collection (the "Collection"), created in 1920 under the provisions of the will of Henry Clay Frick, operates an art museum (the "Museum") which is open to the public, and an art reference library (the "Library") which is available to fine arts scholars and students.

The Collection has been classified as a public charity as described in Sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the Code and is exempt from federal income taxes. In addition, the State and City have classified the Collection as not-for-profit in character and, as such, it is exempt from State and City income taxes.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Net Asset Classifications

The Collection reports information regarding financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: permanently restricted, temporarily restricted, and unrestricted.

- Permanently restricted net assets contain donor-imposed restrictions that stipulate the resources be maintained permanently, but permit the Collection to use, or expend part or all of the income derived from the donated assets for either specified or unspecified purposes.

- Temporarily restricted net assets contain donor-imposed restrictions that permit the Collection to use or expend the assets as specified. The restrictions are satisfied either by the passage of time or by action of the Collection.

- Unrestricted net assets are not restricted by donors. As reflected in the accompanying statement of financial position, the Collection's Board of Trustees has designated a portion of the unrestricted net assets for property and equipment acquisitions and long-term investment.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Summarized Information

The financial statements include certain prior-year summarized comparative information in total but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with the Collection's financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2009, from which the summarized information was derived.

Measure of Operations

Operations include all revenues and expenses that are an integral part of its programs and supporting activities. The measure of operations includes investment income equal to the 4.5% spending rate and excludes investment return in excess of, or less than, the 4.5% spending rate. The measure of operations also excludes permanently restricted contributions, purchase and sale of museum and library collection items, unsolicited, individual unrestricted contributions of $50,000 or more, which contributions are board designated for long-term investment as funds functioning as endowment, depreciation of property and equipment and releases of net assets from restrictions related to non-operating items.

Contributions

The Collection records as revenue, cash and promises to give from individuals, entities, foundations and government agencies. Conditional contributions are recognized as revenue when the conditions on which they depend have been substantially met. Contributions are recorded at fair value, net of estimated uncollectible amounts.

The Collection records contributions as temporarily restricted if they are received with donor stipulations that limit their use either through purpose or time restrictions. When donor restrictions expire, that is, when a purpose restriction is fulfilled or a time restriction ends, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions (see Note 10).

The Collection has volunteers who provide administrative support to Museum and Library programs. Such contributed services do not meet the criteria for recognition of contributed services contained in generally accepted accounting principles and, accordingly, are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing museum and library services and other activities have been summarized in Note 11. Museum programs include costs of the exhibitions, curatorial activities, public education and concerts. Library programs include provision of library access and service, book conservation, the maintenance of the archives, and administration of Library programs. General and administrative services include executive and financial administration, and an allocable portion of building maintenance, and security.

Fundraising activities of the Collection include salaries and employee benefits of program staff who develop proposals for fundraising; solicit contributions for those needs and for endowment purposes from individuals, entities, government agencies and foundations; and conduct special fundraising events. Fundraising costs are expensed as incurred.

Collections

The Museum and Library have extensive collections including: paintings, sculpture, furniture, other decorative arts, books, rare books, photographs, historical auction catalogues and other items. The collections are maintained under the care of the curatorial and Library staff and are held for research, education and public exhibition in furtherance of public service rather than for financial gain. As a matter of policy, proceeds from the sales of collections are used to acquire other items for collections. The Collection does not include either the cost or the value of its collections on the statement of financial position, nor does it recognize gifts of collection items as revenues in the statement of activities. Since items acquired for collection by purchase are not capitalized, the cost of those acquisitions are reported as decreases in net assets in the statement of activities.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Collection considers all highly liquid investments purchased with remaining maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents, with the exception of those money market funds, which are included in investments (see Note 4). The Collection maintains several cash balances in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's amounts in demand deposits, savings accounts, and money market accounts at various financial institutions.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Fair Value Measurements

The Collection follows the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) guidance on Fair Value Measurements which defines fair value and establishes a fair value hierarchy organized into three levels based upon the input assumptions used in pricing assets. Level 1 inputs have the highest reliability and are related to assets with unadjusted quoted prices in active markets. Level 2 inputs relate to assets with other than quoted prices in active markets which may include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities or other inputs which can be corroborated by observable market data. Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs and are used to the extent that observable inputs do not exist.

Investments

The Collection's investments are diversified by asset class (e.g., equities and bonds) and within asset classes (e.g., within equities by investment style, economic sector, industry and size). The purpose of diversification is to provide reasonable assurance that no single security or sector will have a disproportionate impact on the total investments. The Collection's investments are pooled to facilitate their management. Investment income is allocated among the individual components of unrestricted and temporarily restricted net assets, based on donor restrictions or in the absence thereof, using the dollar value unit method.

The Collection manages its pooled investments on a total return basis. To preserve the investments' long-term purchasing power, the Collection makes available to be spent each year 4.5% of the investment portfolio's average market value for the twelve quarters ending the March prior to the beginning of the fiscal year (the "spending rate"). Although long term in nature, this policy may be modified over time to reflect economic, market and investment changes.

Investments are presented in the financial statements at fair value. The Collection also maintains investments in alternative assets. Alternative investments include investments in hedge funds, as well as interest in private equity and venture capital limited partnerships. Alternative asset interests are stated at fair value based upon valuation estimated by each of the funds' managers.

Investment Income Recognition

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis and dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Realized gains and losses on the sale of investments are computed using the average-cost basis of securities sold. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the determination of the change in net assets.

Investments Risks and Uncertainties

Alternative Investments consist of non-traditional, not readily marketable investments, some of which may be structured as offshore limited partnerships, venture capital funds, hedge funds, private equity funds and common trust funds. The underlying investments of such funds, whether invested in stock or other securities, are generally not currently traded in a public market and typically are subject to restrictions on resale. Values determined by investment managers and general partners of underlying securities that are thinly traded or not traded in an active market may be based on historical cost, appraisals, a review of the investees' financial results, financial condition and prospects, together with comparisons to similar companies for which quoted market prices are available or other estimates that require varying degrees of judgment.

Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuations, the estimated fair values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for such investments existed or had such investments been liquidated, and those differences could be material.

Property and Equipment

Land, building, significant building improvement projects and equipment expenditures in excess of $2,000 are capitalized. Depreciation and amortization of buildings, building improvements and equipment is provided over the estimated useful lives on the straight-line basis, and is recognized as an operating expense. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

	Years
Building and building additions	28 to 50
Security systems	15
Furniture and equipment	5 to 10

Inventory

Inventory consisting of publications, prints and cards is valued at the lower of average cost or market.

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes

The Collection recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Management has determined that the Collection has no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement disclosure. The Collection is no longer subject to audits by the applicable taxing jurisdictions for periods prior to 2006.

Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated subsequent events for disclosure and/or recognition in the financial statements through the date that the financial statements were available to be issued, which date is December 2, 2010.

3. Contributions Receivable

Contributions receivable consisted of the following at June 30:

5. Fair Value Measurements (continued)

The amount of total losses for the year included in changes in net assets attributable to the change in unrealized gains or losses relating to assets still held at June 30, 2010 were $8,910,395.

Information regarding the alternative investments at June 30, 2010 is as follows:

	Fair Value	Unfunded Commitments	Redemption Frequency	Redemption Notice Period
Equity hedge funds (see "a" below)	$ 55,415,548	$ -	Monthly	30 days
Marketable alternative asset funds (see "b" below)	60,885,617	-	Quarterly - 2 years	45 - 90 days
Non-Marketable alternative asset funds (see "c" below)	13,022,622	19,196,153	*	*
Total	$ 129,323,787	$ 19,196,153

* Non-Marketable alternative assets are illiquid investments.

a. This category includes investments in hedge funds that invest primarily in both long and short equity securities, but may include real estate, and a variety of absolute return strategies. Management of the hedge funds has the ability to shift investments from value to growth strategies, from small to large capitalization stocks, and from a net long position to a net short position. The fair values of the investments in this category have been estimated using the net asset value per share of the investments.

b. This category includes investments in hedge funds that invest both long and short equity securities, real assets, and a variety of absolute return strategies. These investments are considered marketable alternatives due to their non-traditional endowment investment composition, coupled with their less liquid nature.

c. This category includes private equity funds that invest primarily in technology companies and intellectual properties. These investments are not redeemed at will as shares of the fund. Instead, the nature of the investments in this category is that distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund.

6. Endowments

(*) represents principal returned from temporarily restricted net assets to unrestricted net assets. Assets were transferred in prior years to cover accumulated realized and unrealized losses that had caused certain permanently restricted endowment funds to fall below their historic dollar value.

Certain of the Collection's donor restricted endowments have experienced losses due to market fluctuations and the continuing requirements of funded programs. Generally accepted accounting principles require that such losses be absorbed by the unrestricted net assets of the Collection and that future gains be allocated to unrestricted net assets until such losses have been restored. The aggregate, cumulative amount of such absorbed losses by the unrestricted net assets at June 30, 2010 was $84,770.

7. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization, at June 30, consisted of the following:

	2010	2009

Building	5,662,166	5,662,166

Less accumulated depreciation and amortization	22,246,439	20,783,435
	$ 17,786,432	$ 18,004,325

Depreciation expense for the year ended June 30, 2010 and 2009 amounted to $1,463,004 and $1,445,756, respectively.

8. Pension and Other Post Retirement Benefits

The Collection sponsors a noncontributory defined benefit plan (the "Plan") which covers substantially all employees. The Plan provides benefits based on salary and years of service. The actuarial cost method used is the project unit credit.

Plan assets are invested principally in mutual funds and corporate common stocks. The administrative cost of the Plan are borne by the Collection and amounted to $390,433 for the year ended June 30, 2010. The Collection's Funding policy is to contribute annually the greater of $400,000 or the actuarial provided amount that meets the minimum requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, under different assumptions from those used for financial-reporting purposes.

In addition to providing pension benefits, the Collection provides postretirement health and supplemental life insurance benefits for retired employees. Substantially all of the Collection's employees may become eligible for those benefits if they reach normal retirement age while working for the Collection. The Collection funds its postretirement benefits costs on a pay-as-you-go basis and provides for the expense on the accrual basis.

8. Pension and Other Post Retirement Benefits (continued)

The funded status of the Collection's defined benefit pension and nonpension postretirement benefit plans is recognized in the statement of financial position. The funded status is measured as the difference between the fair value of plan assets and the benefit obligation at the statement of financial position date. Actuarial gains and losses arising during the year not yet recognized within net periodic benefit cost are included as other change in net assets and will be amortized as a component of net periodic benefit cost in the future.

The following tables provide a reconciliation of the changes in the plans' benefit obligations and fair value of assets for the year ended June 30, 2010 and a statement of the funded status at June 30, 2010:

Actuarial Assumptions

Actuarial assumptions for the year ended June 30, 2010 are as follows:

Weighted-average assumptions as of June 30	Pension Benefits June 30, 2010	Other Postretirement Benefits June 30, 2010
Discount rate used to determine benefit obligations	5.75%	5.75%
Discount rate used to determine net periodic pension cost	7.00%	-
Expected long-term return on plan assets	8.00%	-
Rate of compensation increase	4.00%	-

For measurement purposes, an 8.00% annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care benefits was assumed for 2009. The rates were assumed to decrease gradually to 4.75% for 2014 and remain at that level through 2020.

Effect of Change in Health Care Trend Rate

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the health care plan. A one-percentage-point change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have the following effects:

	1% Point Increase	1% Point Decrease
Increase (decrease) in accumulated plan benefit obligation	$ 999,000	$ (798,000)
Increase (decrease) in sum of service and interest cost	115,000	(90,000)
